Subject: Final Tier One Line Up for Infra Talk Confirmed

Rail Forum Midlands (RFM) can confirm 3 additional tier 1 companies are now signed up to Infra Talk on 21 January. SSE Rail, Mace Dragados and Mace Group have joined the prestigious line up bringing the total number of represented tier 1's from railway infrastructure to 21. This completes the line up and makes Infra Talk the must attend virtual networking event to kick start 2021.

The full list of participating tier 1's is below:

Align JV	BAM Nuttall	Mace Dragados	SSE Rail
Alstom	Colas Rail	Quinn Infrastructure	Story Contracting
Amco Giffen	Costain	Mace Group	XYZ Rail
Amey	Dyer & Butler	Rhomberg Sersa
Babcock International	EKFB	Siemens Automation
Balfour Beatty	KeolisAmey	Skanska Construction

Breaking the mould

Elaine Clark, CEO of RFM said; "We are absolutely delighted with the response from tier 1's to Infra Talk. This networking event steps firmly away from conferences and webinars and offers companies from across the supply chain, including SMEs, unrivalled access to tier 1 representatives from procurement, commercial and project teams. We are also incredibly grateful to Quinn Infrastructure for their sponsorship of this exciting new event".

With no presentations, no applications and no appointment scheduling, Infra Talk will deliver open-access fast face-to-face networking. In addition to tier 1s, delegates can also speak with a range of VIPs and key organisations also hosting tables, including Network Rail and HS2.

The event will be officially opened by Tim Shoveller, Managing Director of North West & Central Region of Network Rail.

Open to the whole industry

Infra Talk is open to both RFM members and non-members. Companies can register their place via the the Rail Forum Midlands website.

Infra Talk event sponsor is Quinn Infrastructure.
